Dear Mr Masani,

Please refer to your kind letter of 19th, September 79. Now that the elections are over and the people have again voted Madam Gandhi to power. Looking to the present trend it seems there are only two choise before the people Indiraism or Communism in this country. As far as Janata party is concerned it is a divided house and the people have lost faith in the party. I strongly feel personally that the majority of the people of this country are not in favour of Indiraism or Communism but there is no other choise or alternative before them. I have read your book "J.P. Mission Partly Accomplished". J.P. secretefice has been wasted at least for the present. I am glad that Almighty has taken him from this world, otherwise he would have suffered much more then what he had suffered already.

In your letter you have mentioned that you have retired from party politics, but I hope you will atleast be kind enough to guide those people who wish to start a conservative party in this country. We have already started a party in M.P. by the name of Janadhikar Parishad though the party did not take any part in the this mid term elections as we were not fully prepaired for it. The working committe of the is meeting on 29th of Feb at Jabalpur to draw the contitution of the party and the election manifesto. I shall be greatly oblided to you if you kindly let me have the Contitution of the Swatantra Party and its election Manifesto. Before we finalise our party constitution I shall send it to you for your advice. I will only request you to give your blessings and guide us from time to time. I hope you will not disappoint me. I assure you that I shall never ask you to join active party politics
