My dear Masani,

116

Now, that the election is over, I am writing this letter to you to apprise you of something which I cannot keep ~~letter to your ears~~ in my heart.

I am only sorry, apart from the sad state of affairs before and today the election day, for the betrayal of an innocent person like you by the sole Trio-in-charge of the affair M/s Kalyani, Ratibhai and Chhotubhai, in whom you put your utmost trust. This is the result of the self-centered and monopolistic handling of election machinery by them. This is the result of over confidence put in the personnel not worthy of it. I have no hesitation in saying that theirs was deliberate action to humiliate the sincere workers of the party who offered their honorary and selfless services and whose healthy suggestion were not heeded and thereby putting down a noble man like you. Man may forgive and forget such actions but Almighty will never forgive.

I am risking the displeasure of these persons in addressing this letter to you, but I am sure this will be appreciated by all the honest workers.

I feel it necessary to convey to you that in spite of the humiliation, heaped on ~~the~~ the ~~workers~~ honest workers. The work was carried out with due regard to the party's ^{interest} benefit and for you and in the last stage of campaign and on the polling day, whatever best was to be done was done.

As I cannot place full facts for want of time today I will address you a detailed letter later but in short I may say that the handling of the election campaign was arrogant and deceitful by the persons who would not share the responsibility with anybody and keep all power to themselves, for a fear of exposure of their mishandling of affair and deliberate design of making the campaign a farce.

I have done all in my power ^{single} handed, though none of my healthy suggestion were ever considered.

I pray Almighty for your success.

Always at your service,

Yours Sincerely,

Bhambhani
