My dear Purshotamdas,

You may remember my asking you, when we met at your house some weeks ago in connection with the proposed break-up of Bombay State, for a donation to the funds of the Swatantra Party. Within the short period of its existence, the Party has been able to ^{secure} ~~gather~~ the backing of a large number of people in different parts of India, who have come to realize the harm which the Congress, by its extreme policies, has been inflicting on the country. I hope the move has your support and that you will kindly see your way to send me whatever contribution you may think it proper to make.

With kindest regards,

Yours sincerely,

Sir Purshotamdas Thakurdas.
