My dear Chagla,

As promised in the House today, I forward herewith a table showing the loss in sales of nationalised text books in Bihar due to spurious books being put on the market.

I also enclose the February issue of Opinion in which you will find a short article on the subject of Counterfeit Books by Mr. R.E.Hawkins, General Manager of Oxford University Press, whom you have probably met in Bombay. I shall be glad if you will kindly read the article before you deal with this matter in your reply to the discussion tomorrow. You will do a great service to the young people of India and to the teachers, not to mention writers and publishers, if you will kindly take interest in this matter and give a new direction to thinking and policy on this subject.

encls;

Yours sincerely,

(M. R. MASANI)

Mr. M. C. Chagla,
Minister of Education,
