My dear Jain,

I have just seen a copy of the booklet published by the Parliamentary Office entitled 'Lawless Legislation' which I find interesting.

While the publication itself is no doubt useful, I would like to point out that, in order to avoid confusion between what is published by the Party's Central Office and what may be published by the Office of the Parliamentary Group, the words "A Swatantra Party Publication" on the title page should not be used. In future, please arrange that all publications issued by the Parliamentary Office should be described as "A Swatantra Parliamentary Group Publication".

Yours sincerely,

(M.R. Masani)
