Dear Shri Masani,

Thank you for your letter of August 5, 1987 which has taken some time in reaching me. I had read your warm observations in your column in 'The Statesman'. I need hardly tell you that I value and cherish the sentiments expressed by you.

Your observations regarding constitutional matters reflect the keenness of your mind. The workability of some of your suggestions will, however, depend on the specifics of each contingency.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

(R. VENKATARAMAN)
