Shradhaya Rajaji,

your kind letter dated 1st January has just reached me. As you know Sir I have been away from India for the last six months and I am not aware of any democratic solution having been offered to me by any body since my return. On receipt of your kind letter I enquired from my brother Dr. Basant Parain Singh and the Raja of Bhaksudpur if any solution had been offered to them during my absence from India but they too have expressed that they are not aware of any solution having been offered to them. I am - therefore in the dark to which "Democratic Solution" my attention has been drawn, which I am required to accept.

May I therefore request to be enlightened on the point.

With respectful regards,
yours Sincerely
Ramakrishna Parain

Dear Ramgarh,

Welcome back. I have your kind letter from Calcutta. I hope you are now quite well. I shall gladly give some time to Bihar. But before that I must see that our Bihar Party has settled down in good order. You must accept the democratic solutions offered to you.

Affectionate regards,

Yours sincerely,

Sradheya Raja Ji,

I am glad to inform you that I returned back to India the other day after a six months' stay abroad. Much against my will and inspite of pressures making my presence in the country imperative health kept me away from India in the last crucial months. Both the Party and the Country have experienced the crisis thrust upon us. I have watched the developments with anxiety. But the response and the reaction to the crisis has made history and has unfolded the future before us.

I am looking forward to meeting you soon. Now that the crisis is changing in tone and content we also have to shape our policy and programme to be able to rise equal to the task. I believe, we will meet at different levels and decisions will be taken in the Organisational and National perspective. You are the beackonlight to the Country and through you we must dispel the darkness around us.

In persuance of this scheme, I request you to kindly give us some time from your busy programme for a tour in the State of Bihar.

I hope, this finds you well.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

Karmakhyas Narain Singh
