25th July 1963.

My dear Rajaji,

I thought I would mention that I have received more than one expression of concern at a couple of remarks you have recently made in print. One is your advice to the March of the Nation published in their issue of July 6, "to forget about K. Krishna Menon, so that the nation may one day learn to make good use of him". The other is your reference to Seminar which is published by Romesh Thapar, a Communist. That coupled with other things had led Tide in its issue of 20th July to build up a whole farce. I enclose a copy of the Tide articles.

I just thought I should draw your attention to these things in case the use that is being made of them has not been drawn to your attention.

Yours sincerely,

(M.R.Masani)
