My dear Bhailalbhai,

I sent you a telegram from Rajkot the morning after the result of the election saying that our victory was a result of your optimism and faith. This is altogether true since but for your keenness I would never have stood and we would not have won the seat against such heavy odds.

I am feeling terribly exhausted and washed out and so must you. I hope your health which was poor when you left for Vallabh Vidya Nagar is now better and that you are now restored to normal health.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

(M.R. Masani)
