...from Mahatma Gandhi

"No school of thought can claim monopoly of right judgment. We are all liable to err and are often obliged to revise our judgments. In a vast country like this, there must be room for all schools of honest thought."

—Young India, April 17, 1924

"True morality consists, not in following the beaten track, but in finding out the true path for ourselves and in fearlessly following it."

—Ethical Religion, 1930

"True democracy or the Swaraj of the masses can never come through untruthful and violent means, for the simple reason that the natural corollary to their use would be to remove all opposition through the suppression or extermination of the antagonists. That does not make for individual freedom."

—Harijan, May 27, 1939

"Democracy is not a state in which people act like sheep. Under democracy individual liberty of opinion and action is jealously guarded."

—Young India, March 2, 1922

"I am not interested in freeing India merely from the English yoke. I am bent upon freeing India from any yoke whatsoever."

—Young India, June 12, 1924

"I have always held that social justice, even to the least and the lowliest, is impossible of attainment by force."

—Harijan, April 20, 1940

"They say 'means are after all means'. I would say 'means are after all everything.' As the means so the end. There is no wall of separation between means and end."

—Young India, July 17, 1924

"The outward freedom that we shall attain will only be in exact proportion to the inward freedom to which we may have grown at a given moment. And if this is the correct view of freedom, our chief energy must be concentrated upon achieving reform from within."

—Young India, November 1, 1928

they share in our future ...

Prudent people, to provide for their children's future, often invest their savings in Tata enterprises. Among the thousands of individual shareholders, many are people of small means who cannot afford to take chances. They rely upon Tata enterprises to safeguard their investment and ensure an adequate return.

Every Tata enterprise is deeply conscious of the obligation which this trust places upon it. Throughout its career, the House of Tata has endeavoured to live up to this trust, and the interests of the smaller investors have always been kept in mind in the determination of its policies.
