

March 19, 1971

I have been waiting to obtain from our Party office your address so that I could drop you a line to thank you personally for coming over all the way from Bombay to Rajkot and being of such valuable assistance to us in our election campaign there. If you and some of your friends had been there throughout, certainly I think the result in Rajkot City would have been different. Even as it was, your coming there was of great help. My only regret is that your labours were not rewarded with success.

All the same, please accept my grateful thanks for the time and effort you dedicated to this purpose which I deeply appreciate.

Yours sincerely,

(H. R. Macani)
