Dear Sir,

I am the wife of Viren Shah who has now been detained under M.I.S.A. Last Thursday he had a heart attack and since then he has been in the Intensive Care Unit at the J.J. Hospital. I am sure the necessary medical attention is being given to my husband and I am grateful for it.

I have a request to make to you which I hope you will consider reasonable and that is when my husband is moved from the Intensive Care Unit at the J.J. Hospital, he may kindly be moved to a Nursing Home so that his treatment can be continued and his recovery ensured. Naturally, he would be kept under police guard but moving into a Nursing Home would mean that he would be in a somewhat congenial environment and that we could arrange for private nursing. Naturally, the cost of accommodation at the Nursing Home and the nursing would be borne by me.

I do hope you will not find it difficult to respond on compassionate grounds to this request and I shall be glad to have a word in reply to say that this can be done.

Yours truly,

(Anjana Shah).
