16th March, 1971

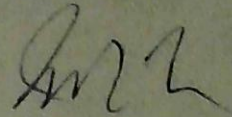

My dear Rati,

Thank you for your note of the 11th which has just come in. What has happened is all very sad and when I say this I am not only thinking of myself or any individual. I fear our people will have to pay for their mistakes. It is time for an agonising reappraisal during which wishful thinking will have to be set aside.

Do let me know when you come to Bombay. It will be a great pleasure to see you again.

My regards to Rogerson.

Yours as ever,

(M. R. MASANI)

11th.

A truly sad day, Kins.
I have never felt more ashamed of being an Indian than I do now.

My thoughts are with you
— so are those of many others —

more devotedly
than ever,

Rati
