

Our Ref: 70

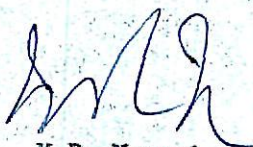

October 10, 1974

Dear Mr. Rengaswami,

I have received your nice long letter of September 24 and read it with great interest.

I do not think any purpose will be served about my carrying ~~on~~ the argument any further. I happen to hold the view that even in politics honesty in the long run is the best policy. This is not preaching ethics but practical common sense. Judged by this test the new ^{party} movement is bound to fail and is bound to become counter-productive.

Yours sincerely,

M.R. Masani
